

Defining the standard of MDF

BESPOKE PREMIER BEAUTY

The Scenario:

Clients seeking beautiful interior design, Richard Baker is a professional joinery company that provides bespoke furniture. To achieve this the company needs a panel with versatility, ease of working and a quality finish.

The Solution:

The innate strength of Medite Premier comes from its consistent quality and thickness, which also means less tool wear for the joiner. Convenient and easy to use, Medite Premier provides a solution for even the most artisanal projects where quality and attention to detail are key.

The Result:

The smooth face properties of Medite Premier makes it suitable not only for a painted finish, but also for the application of even the thinnest veneers, laminates and surface coatings to achieve the desired result. This is ideal for furniture and cabinet-makers and bespoke craftspeople.

“This is the perfect material for our well-designed pieces. We usually hand paint all our furniture products and the smooth surface of Medite Premier panels makes it ideal for a high quality, professional finish. The way the MDF is manufactured, with a very strong core, enables us to use it for bespoke pieces, in particular our coffee bar, door profiles and bolection mouldings.” Rachel Baker, Richard Baker Furniture www.richardbakerfurniture.co.uk
